Dedication

WE, THE SENIOR CLASS of '44, happily dedicate our DOE-WAH-JACK to Miss Grace Bowen, a dominant factor of B. H. S. life who—after eight years of unselfish service—continues to help us “add, subtract, divide, and multiply” our way to victory.

Socializin' . . . A bevy of cuties . . . Another bevy . . . Still another . . . The lone female . . . What a gang! . . . and he said . . . Cookin' up news . . . Relaxin' . . . Romeos . . . We stick together.

Our Past

1941 . . .

For two hundred and fifty boys and girls 1941 was the beginning of a long and happy adventure. We had arrived—high school at last. No longer, in our eyes were we children, but we were on the long road that leads to adulthood. Perhaps in spite of this conviction, we were a little scared deep down inside of what lay ahead of us. Yet we were determined to do our best and to leave a good record behind us.

When we settled down to the business of selecting officers for our freshman year, we chose those who were most capable of serving us. Mary Ann Barrett was elected president; Bobby Morton, vice president; Betty Levison, secretary and Thomas Lindley, treasurer. Science, Latin, and Home Economics were our big bug-a-boos that year and how we labored over them. Football, basketball, band and glee clubs kept us rather busy all the year. Therefore it was with a sigh of relief, that in the spring, we bade farewell to the B.H.S. campus and said “hello” to the old swimming hole.

In 1942 we greeted Burlington High School with a determined ring in our voices, for our country was at war. We knew that as soldiers of the homefront we could do our share by supporting our school, our teachers, and our fellow students. Our officers for the year were Dorothy Keziah, Keaton Clark, Robert Suggs, and Rebecca Ryerson.

1943 . . .

When we came back to the halls of learning in 1943, we felt at home. For this year we were Juniors and another step nearer the day when we would receive our diplomas. Class officers for the year were Rodney Coleman, Betty Lynn Barnwell, Agnes Storey and Jimmy Lyon. This new year brought about many changes in B.H.S. Mr. Biggerstaff resigned as principal and was replaced by Mr. James A. Gerow, who proved to be a great favorite among us. Physical education was added to the curriculum, causing many a “bent back and shuffled gait” during our first months. The history notebooks of Mrs. Gilreath and Mrs. Latta caused us many a sleepless night. Mrs. Hunter’s “Quelle-heure est-il, s’il vous plait” kept us looking unhappily at our watches, wondering why they were either too slow or too fast. Violet Stone, a promising young newspaper-woman in the Junior class, was appointed assistant editor of the Barker and Becky Hogan and Frances Land Junior assistants of the DOE-WAH-JACK. The coming vacation in the spring brought to a close a year filled with memories of lessons and games and that never-to-be-forgotten Junior-Senior Prom.

1944 . . .

Seniors! at last! the top of the ladder. It was a long, hard pull. Was it worth it? You can bet your life it was! Getting ready for a bang-up year we elected our officers—Walter Jackson or better known as “Bud,” Dorothy Keziah, Mildred Fulcher, and Hazel Coleman. Nancy Steele was appointed editor of the DOE-WAH-JACK and Violet Stone, editor-in-chief of the Barker. We had an almost complete new change in the faculty, with only a few familiar faces among them, but we like them all. Ah! how time does fly! The year has drawn to a close, marred only by a group of our boys leaving for the armed forces of our country. Then the Senior prom, class day, banquet, are over and we are receiving those hard-earned diplomas. No longer will we greet the halls of old B.H.S., but we will face the battles of life ahead with no turning back. Due to the ideals implanted within us by our school, we can look ahead with a clear vision, with no reason for turning back. Au-revoir—dear alma mater—our hopes and dreams will always be with you.

HAZEL COLEMAN,
Historian.

Class Poem

As we recall our happy years,
 The things that seemed so small—
 The pictures that hang in every room,
 The loudspeaker on the wall—

Appear no longer common place
 But call to us and say,
 "You'll know the things we meant
 When you have gone away."

B.H.S., we'll keep your honor true,
 In many a strange alarm.

Your high standards will bade them ill
 Who try to do us harm.

For some will sail on wings in the skies
 And some beneath the sea;
 Some will tend the soldiers' wounds
 In our fight for liberty.

God, give us strength to win this fight
 Against the treacherous foe;
 And, if we die, make our nation
 The brighter for our woe.

ANN WINNER.

Class Song

Tune of "Auld Lang Syne"

Throughout the years at B.H.S., our love for you has grown,
 The friends we made, the lessons learned were all before unknown.
 For all the knowledge we have gained, for all the joys divine.
 We love you, dear old B.H.S., for all your traits sublime.

So here's a toast to you, dear school, the greatest of the great,
 We drink our toast to one we love, and go to seek our fate;
 And as we look ahead, dear school, to toil and to strife
 We look back to B.H.S., which taught us love of life.

PROPHECY

Recently while floating aimlessly about in a helicopter, I became interested in the whereabouts of my schoolmates. Having not seen the majority of them for nearly ten years, I put my "spccks" on, leaned over the side of the plane, and began to do a little sleuthing. Here is what I learned:

A thriving business has been added to the already prosperous enterprises on Main Street. It's none other than the "Charles Atlas School, Inc."—operated and owned by Steve Moore and Webster Parker. Customers are attracted by their slogan, "We Build Better Bodies," and by Clarence Pickard who stands outside representing the perfect specimen of manhood. Leon Hinton is inside.

Directly across the way is another successful establishment operated by Mary Ivey. Her slogan is "Hips, Hips Away."

For the most part a new faculty has been ordained at B.H.S. Dennis Doster is filling Mr. Gerow's chair (with a little left over), Margie MacGowan is teaching shorthand; John Cates is teaching French; Amanda Bell is teaching typing; Rudolph Smith is teaching geometry; and Harold Fred Sutton is physical education director. Mae Payne has replaced Miss Loftin as school librarian. No longer is the "Beard and Beard" textbook advocated, as in the days of Mrs. Gilreath. The new book is "Garrison and Garrison." Yes, Bobby got his notebook published!

Dr. Donnell Bain, surgeon, Mr. Donald Cole, undertaker, and Mr. Donald Eaton, manager of the local coffin factory are in business together—Bain "blades 'em," Cole "'balms 'em," and Eaton "buries 'em."

Richard Chcek, having refused a movie contract as Frank Sinatra, Jr., is the most prominent minister in town. Women flock to hear him preach. His talented choir director is Lois Wandel. Members of the choir are Mary Nell Murray, Cotty Critcher, Ann Baldwin, Kathleen Miles, Jean Coble, Mazie St. John, Ellen Wilson, Undine DeBruler, Charlotte Wilson and Ruth Wright. Frances Land is organist.

Ward Lasley, after nearly eight years of devoted service, has returned an apprentice seaman from the navy. The discharge, they say, was due to mental deficiency.

Violet Stone is editor of the Haw River Herald. Her reportorial staff includes W. W. McCulloch, Leola Chandler, Shirley Bayne, Jean Ferguson and Betsy G. Love. Louise Diffie and Cecelia Adams are typists.

Evelyn Sweet and Betsy Brown Love (as their names suggest) are sole proprietresses of Honey-moon Hotel, operating under the slogan: "The sea at your door; the bell-hop at your keyhole." Week-end guests are Wade Andrews with Ruth Huffines Andrews and Wayne Andrews with Sarah Harris Andrews.

Rodney Coleman, former president of the "black market," has suddenly turned patriotic and is running for the presidency of the United States. Staunch supporters, who remember his services in the days of yore, are Neil Robertson, Dan Hall, Tommy Wolfe, N. E. Baker, Fred Darlington, Howard Black, Melvin Goodwin, and Clarence Brown. Bud Jackson, Coleman's opponent backed by Wesley Yarborough, Billy Sutton, Tommy Hall, Joe Hinsdale, Eugene Lucas, Robert Mitchell, Harold Isley, and Kenneth Durham, is introducing a new party—the "Bulldograts."

Marshall Koury is busy painting hose on the few females who haven't as yet heard that the war is over.

Tommy Hearne and Robert Greeson are home from the navy with a chest full of medals. Returning heroes from the air corps are Keaton Clark, Frank Ward, Fred Vaughn, Bobby Suggs, De-Roy Fowler, Alton Godwin, Lloyd Green, Douglas Houndley, Brunice Cole, Byron Long and Thomas Lindley. Bowman Small, Clark Perry, Raymond Whitesell, Wilton Smith, Lawrence Sykes, Marvin Smith, Marshall Paul, G. C. Satterfield, Franklin Rudd, Wilton Moser, Thomas Lindley, Willard Nicks and Gerald Mann—former marines—have also landed and have "the situation well in hand."

The alumnae of the '44 senior class did their share in the war effort, too. Brave "Waves" were Leona Garner, Jacqueline Curl, Odessa Craven, Gladys Moser, Carolyn Montgomery, Mildred Jenkins and Susie Coley. Rebecca Ryerson, Frances Butler, Virginia Roney, Joyce Phillips, Dorothy Ball, Mary Frances Noble and Lucy Nicholson were "Wacs."

Due to the fact that Jim Mitchell is mayor of Burlington (Lea) "Rosenbloom's Refinery," is most successful.

The orchestral spotlight has turned from Harry James to his young successor, Lester Gross. Gross' band includes Wallace Hawkins, Catherine Wood, Jimmy Lyon, John Cashion, Jack Burch and Mildred Fulcher.

Yes, B.H.S. is indeed well represented in the musical world. Nancy Steele, Patsy Lane and Jimmy Cowan, who received their inspiration from a high school operetta some ten years ago, are current stars in the Metropolitan.

"Randel's Ramblers" are enjoying a profitable season on Broadway—thanks to the fine management of their director, Mr. Little. Dorothy Keziah and Kitty Jones are solo dancers. Members of the chorus are Betty Futrell, Ann Mitchell, Lynna Reitzel, Betty Walker, Vivian Seaman, Louise Orr, June Ray, Flora Ann Hodge, Doris Glosson, Irene Sykes, Agnes Story, Betty Driver and Delores Landrum.

Barbara Wycoff and Jean Scott Fogleman are the popular models for a New York Department Store owned by Bobby Morton.

Betty Lynn Barnwell's legs may be seen basking under the sun in many magazines advertising (Charles) "Bingenheimer's Bronzing Benzine Balm." On the other page is advertised (Jimmy) "Hines' Honey and Almond Cream." An illustration of his product's potency is an actual photograph of "the hands men love to touch." The hands belong to Catty Holt.

Roger Black and Glenn Heath are competitors in the fullest sense of the word. On one corner of a block stands "Black's Billiard Room," on the other "Heath's Hangout." In between, receiving the most business of all is an establishment operated by Sam Smith. He lures customers inside by inviting them to, "Sober up with Sam."

Thomas Newlin is running a nursery (shrubs, of course).

Dr. W. W. Brown, after years of practical experience, has finally succeeded in establishing "Brown's Institute of Higher Criminology." Louie Madden is professor of gunnery and Elliott White is professor of knifery. Among the most eminent outlaws who received training at this accredited school are (Mary Ann) "Butcher Boy" Barrett, (Peggy) "Dare Devil" Dameron, and (W. R.) "Flattop" Freshwater. Present students are Anna Bonds Andrews, Era Mae Ashley, Eunice Hinshaw, Helen Loy, Hilda Steele, Evelyn Shoe, Mary June Perry, Rena Mae Whitesell, Edith Roebuck, Daisy Turner, Earl Marlette, Billy T. Sutton and Lloyd Green.

Participant in a national beauty contest, Ann Winner has been selected the current "Miss America." Other local contestants were Nellie Ingold and Ethel Angelos.

Becky Hogan is a most efficient nurse at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Marjorie Coble has been elected president of the North Carolina chapter of "4 H's." Other leaders in the organization are Elizabeth Way, Louise Wagoner, Emogene Curl, Norma Taylor, Rachel Tate, Jean Terrell, Sylvia Lumsden, Mildred Simmons, Jacqueline Shoemaker and Eleanor Mansfield.

Jimmy Burns is having a fine time playing football at Penn State. Bubbie Miller and Andy Glenn are Duke stars.

Working in the leading stores of Burlington are Mildred Brewer, Hilda Hendren, Peggy Coble, Ruth Brewer and Dorothy Cates at Belk's; Romelda Newsome, Marie Murdoek, May Joyce Moser, Rachel Moore and Iris Satterfield at Sellar's; Hilda Barton, Mary Blanchard, Shirley Cates, Hazel Fitch and Odessa Craven at Raylass.

Madgelen Cole and Hazel Coleman are the city librarians.

James Looney is announcer for a radio program sponsored by Walker and Raymond Kivett. Their product is "Kivett's Liver Kick."

And last but not least, Becky Walker has become one of the most outstanding architects in the U.S.A.

Now regardless of what has been prophesied, here's wishing for everyone of you a most successful future!

JULIA ROSS,
Prophet.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

NORTH CAROLINA
ALAMANCE COUNTY
Burlington

We, the graduates of Burlington High School of the above State and County, in the year of Our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Forty-four, being in fairly sound mind, everything considered, and wishing those who succeed us to have some of the blessings that have been ours, do solemnly will, bequeath and bestow the following as our Last Will and Testament:

ARTICLE I

To the Faculty we bequeath our high scholarship, obedience, attentiveness and general intelligence to pass along to the succeeding classes.

ARTICLE II

To our honored principal, James A. Gerow, we bequeath a box of cigars, a contract with the Quiz Kids and the Junior Class—the Lord pity him.

ARTICLE III

To the Juniors we leave our venerable seats in chapel along with the agony of remaining awake, keeping quiet and looking intelligent.

ARTICLE IV

To the Freshmen, passing now into the second phase of the treacherous voyage through high scholastics, we leave a new school system, hoping that they can do as well in twelve years as we did in eleven.

ARTICLE V

Certain individuals bestow the following gifts:

Clarence Pickard leaves his glamorous profile to Bruce Harris.

Lester Gross wills his flowing golden locks to Earl Bolden.

Mae Payne leaves her popularity to Elaine Frissell.

Sam Smith wills the unfinished task of changing the law of gravity upon Billy Simpson.

Jim Burns leaves his initiation costume to anyone elected to try it on.

Helen Loy, after much consideration and deliberation, has arrived at the conclusion that she is in great need of all her possessions at present and will make no formal bequests.

John Cates bequeaths his antics as cheerleader to Boyd Brannock, alias "Berrhead."

Leon Hinton reluctantly leaves his stalwart and striking physique to George Dillinger, Jr.

Donnell Bain, W. W. Brown and Lea Rosenbloom will their solemn expression to anyone who might need them to pass a subject.

Andy Glenn leaves his datebook to Wilbur Foster.

Louise Diffie wishes her touchy disposition upon June Faulconer.

Webster Parker dedicates his paint and easel to the band of Jack Wall.

Betsy Brown Love relays her position as Bureau of General Information to Merle Walker.

Glenn Heath relinquishes his sportish coats to Howard Watson.

Jim Mitchell pridefully hands down his blank mind to Ira Brinkley.

Jean Scott Fogleman, feeling sorry for the teachers, leaves her intellect to Betty Winningham.

Bobby Garrison leaves his w-reckless driving to John Williams.

Rodney Coleman leaves his task as President of the Student Body to anyone who can fill his shoes.

Bobby Suggs gives his boxing gloves to Donald Denny.

Ruth Brewer and Mary Jane Perry want their prowess under the basket to go to Helen Stack and Catherine Moore.

Rudolph Smith and Kenneth Durham bestow their "om-pa-pas" to Billy Kivett.

Becky Hogan, Julia Ross and Becky Walker, wish their intelligence and good looks to be distributed equally among the Junior Class.

Since Dennis Doster doesn't want his ability of getting along with faculty to die, he wills it to Jimmy Bivens.

Mary Ivey donates her formula for reducing to Kenneth Blanchard.

Louie Madden leaves the dance floor to the shuffling feet of Carl "Tooky" Lee.

Nancy Steele leaves her vocal talent to Betty Jane Carr on condition that she practice ten hours daily.

Ralph Neighbors bequeaths the care of the library to Billy Stafford.

Catherine Holt and Patsy Lane leave their grace and sophistication to Norman Fidler for use on the football field.

Wesley Yarborough, mathematical genius, donates his formulae to Benson Lightbourne.

Clarence Brown wills his pep to Bobby Hogan.

Evelyn Sweet leaves her wardrobe to Becky Garrison.

Richard Cheek, bequeaths his soulful "Sinatra" face to Allen Pierce.

In testimony whereof, we hereby appoint as executor of this, our last will and testament, Mr. James A. Gerow, with instructions that he is to carry out faithfully the terms of the foregoing instrument.

We do hereby subscribe our names and affix our seals.

Class of '44,
WARD LASLEY, Testator.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of Burlington High School is composed of the president of each homeroom, two members of the faculty who act as sponsors, the officers of the student body, the editor of the Barker, the editor of the DOE-WAH-JACK, the head cheerleader, and the presidents of the extra curricular activities. The representatives must have a "C" average on scholarship and a "B" average on conduct.

The presidents of the homerooms are elected in whatever manner the homeroom decides. One sponsor is chosen by the council and the other is appointed by the principal. The officers of the student body are elected in the spring before their year of office.

Coleman, Hogan, Stafford, Isley.

Regular meetings of the Student Council are held weekly in the council room. Whenever necessary the president may call an extra meeting.

The aim of the council is to create a better understanding between the faculty and the students, and thereby to enrich school life in general.

HONOR SOCIETY

The first high school honor society was the Phi Beta Sigma, organized in Chicago, in 1903, under the direction of Dr. William B. Owen. The organization still exists as a separate society with rules and regulations very similar to those of the National Honor Society.

The Burlington Chapter of the National Honor Society received its Charter in December 1930.

In the spring of each year 5 per cent of the Junior Class is elected to join the ranks of the honored few through their merits of scholarship, which is required to be at least a "B" average, and conduct which must be an "A." In the fall 10 per cent of the Senior Class is eligible for the ranks of the society.

The four cardinal principles of the society are: (1) Scholarship; (2) Leadership; (3) Service; and (4) Character.

A very impressive service is used for the induction of new members.

BAND

The Burlington High School Band, under the direction of Mr. E. F. Rhodes, has participated in various activities this year.

With the opening of the football season, the band with its approximately fifty members, was present to add to the gridiron scenes with peppy marches and a good display of marching ability.

On Armistice Day the band took part in the parade and program which followed.

The band has had part in several broadcasts, has addad to assembly programs, and was also present at Bond Rallies held in the city and played for many other worthy causes.

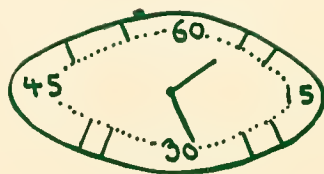

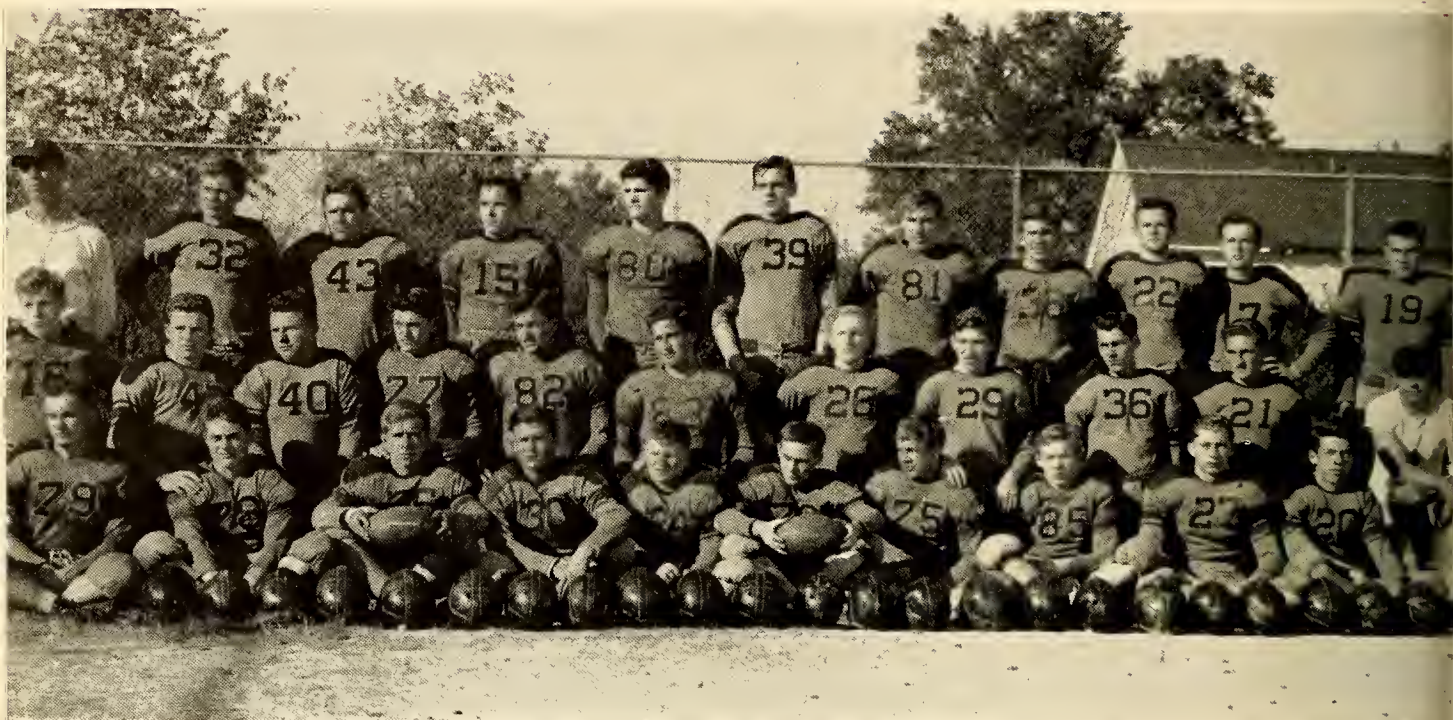

Much improvement has been shown on the part of members and we may well look forward to a band which will do honor to Burlington High School in the following years.

Athletics

Football

The 1943 Burlington High School football season is marked not so much by victories, but by the team's fighting spirit. The Durham game is a typical example. Outscored 25-0 in the first half, the Bulldogs, led by John Cashion and Jim Burns, came back with a flourish of power to run the Durham team ragged, doing everything but scoring.

Sanford, the first home game, was likewise spotted a few points. But this time we got a few points ourselves. A long pass from Fred Miller to Nick Long did the trick. Soon after, Andy Glenn caught another pass, giving us the ball game 12-6. Line play was sparked by Bud Jackson and Clarence Pickard Encouraged by this victory, the Bulldogs went to High Point with the determination to win. With Miller tearing up the Bison line, it was all Burlington the first quarter. After that, the game was practically an even match with High Point getting the breaks to win 20-6. Playing his best game of the year Robert Mitchell led the B.H.S. defense. Following this game, the Bulldogs traveled to Mt. Airy where they played bang-up ball despite the absence of several regular players. With sub Donnell Bain leading the offense they scored the first touchdown made against Mt. Airy in the entire year. Although the home team finally won the game, it was done only through trick plays, since every time they tried to pierce the Bulldog line, they ran smack into Robert Greeson, who made his last game for old B.H.S. his best.

But it was at Reynold's High School, in Winston-Salem that 1913's B.H.S. football team really showed its mettle. After losing their star back, Fred Miller, in the first five minutes of play, the Bulldogs settled down to give the highly vaunted Black Demons a show they'll never forget. For forty-three minutes the outweighed Burlington team held its opponents in leash, even scoring one touchdown themselves. Every one of the 11 men stood up under the test. Those who excelled were Richard Cheek who threw the touchdown pass for our lone score—Ward Lasley, Randel Little, Norman Fidler and Tommy Morris. Finally, because of sheer exhaustion the Bulldogs went down, but went down fighting.

The second game of the season pitted B.H.S. against Gastonia's Green Wave. After a hard struggle the powerful Gastonia team gradually overpowered the B.H.S. line to win 15-0 despite the offensive efforts Lester Gross and N. E. Baker put forth.

Our hats go off to Coaches Lester and Baxter Ridenhour, who in defeat as well as victory, patiently and diligently coached the team through one of the hardest football schedules in the history of our school.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Burlington High School's 1943, 1944 physical education program has been under the supervision of Mrs. Dorothy Holyfield and Mr. Baxter Ridenhour.

The boys' program began in the fall with simple exercises, progressing from easier to more strenuous training. As long as the weather permitted, the classes were conducted outside. After getting their bodies into condition, the boys took up competitive sports. Much interest was shown in soccer, football, basketball, and tumbling.

The girls' classes started with getting their bodies into condition so they could, later in the year, enter into sports of all kinds. The course included volley ball, basketball, and tumbling. Several special events were dancing, community singing, and posture correction.

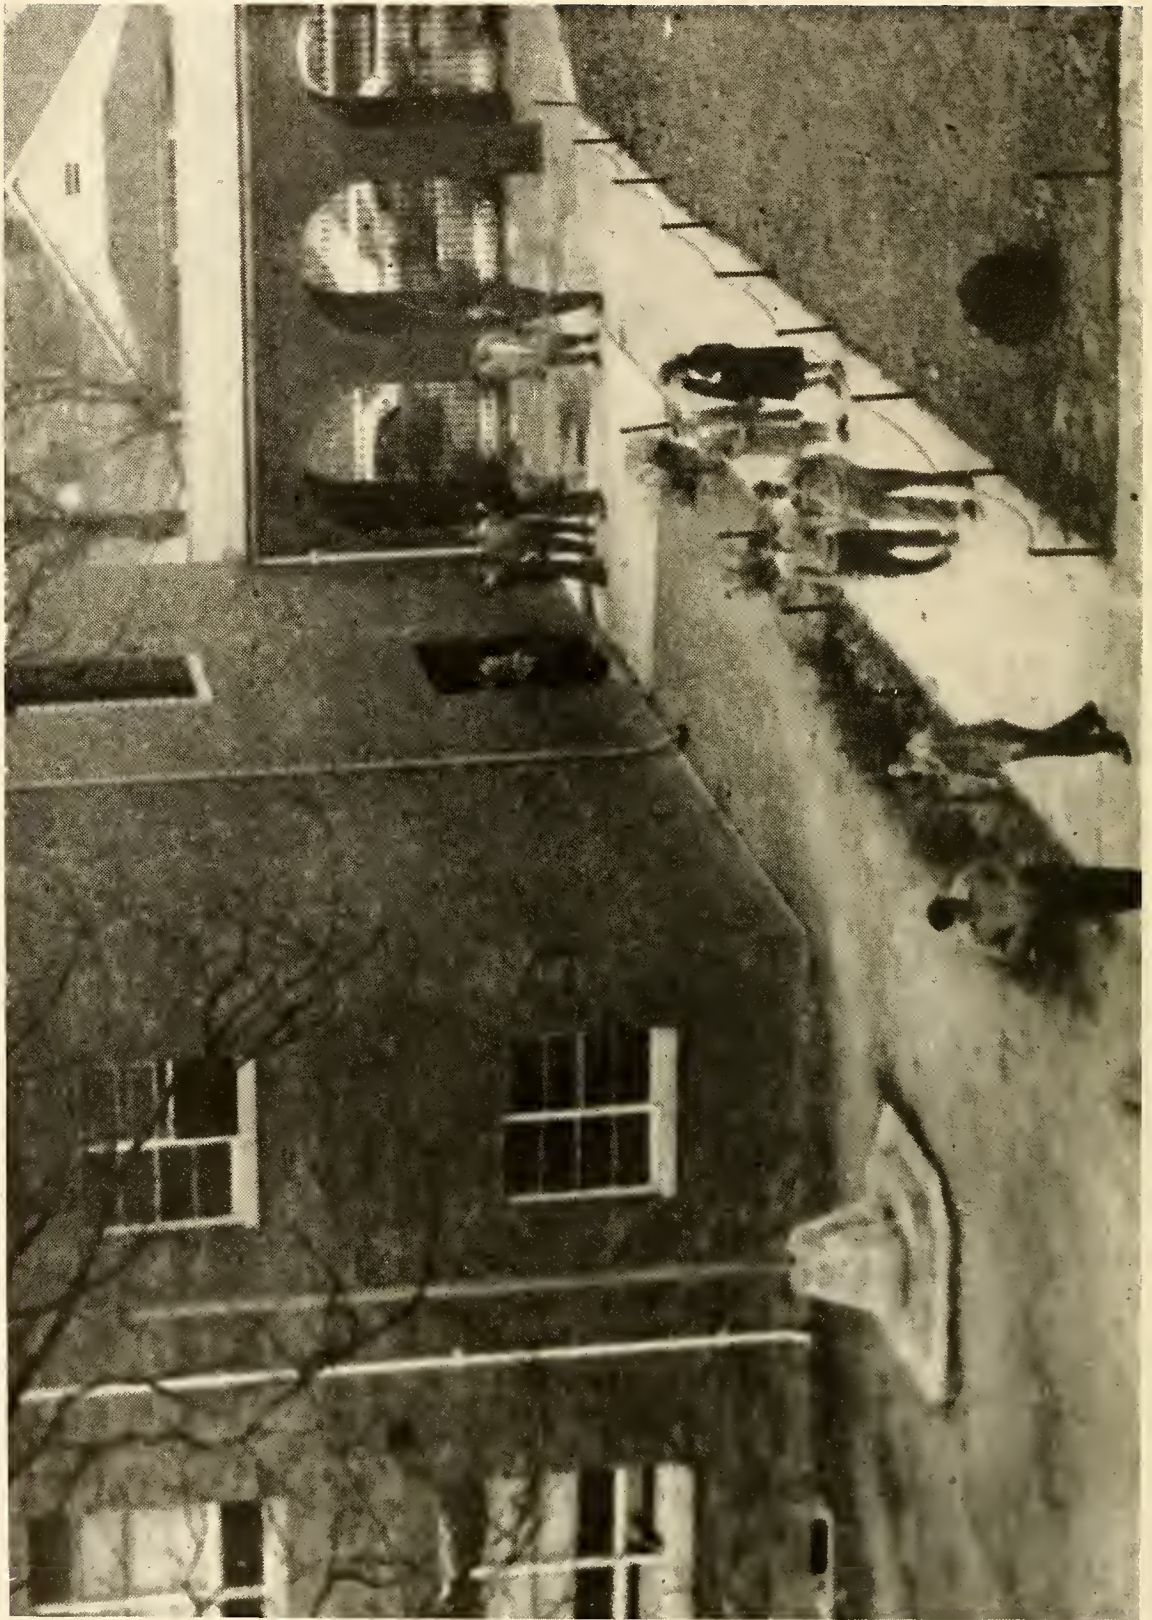

The girls met once a week, in the classroom, for four months to discuss boy-girl relationships. A great deal was gained by these meetings.

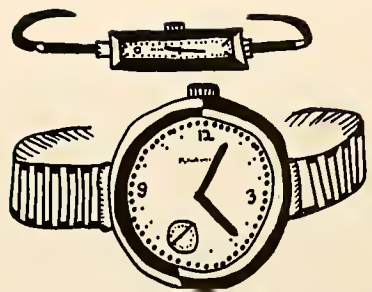

The Physical Education Department sponsored the annual home room basketball tournament.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL SONG

Burlington High we pledge
Allegiance now to you
To thee we'll ever be true
Molder of our destiny
We honor you always
We love you cause you're best
And so we sing praise to you
Three cheers for old B.H.S.

Long may her banner wave
The symbol of the right
We'll never let it be scarred
We'll shield it with all our might
So Hail to you fair gem
The brightest of the best
Once more we'll sing praise to you
Three cheers for old B.H.S.

Our "Chief"

A Typical (???) Day at Burlington High School

You know, I had the funniest dream last night, all about B.H.S. I would have known it anywhere except for one peculiar thing—it was upside down! In fact, the whole darn school was topsy-turvy, as you shall hear.

When the first bell rang, I walked down to Mme Hunter's room and found Webster Parker and Dennis Doster studying French. Before I could pinch myself, the other students began to arrive.

After timidly requesting silence for fifteen minutes, Mme Hunter resignedly made her announcement: "Students, we will not have class today, as I must finish grading that test we had two months ago. Last six weeks, as you will remember, I gave every one an A plus; but this six weeks, because of these papers, I am afraid I shall be forced to give two or even three A minuses. However, you may use this period to study in."

"Oh, goody!" shouted Jean Scott Fogleman from the back row, "now I can read my funny book." But a disdainful look from Dennis Doster quenched her so thoroughly that, although she perused the adventures of "Captain Marvel" with belligerence (every word counts in writing a theme, even misspelled ones) she refrained from popping her gum quite so loudly.

Next came study hall where Mrs. Guiton won seven dollars from Miss Loftin playing gin rummy. (Say, how did that get in here?)

In Miss Aycock's English class, we gave our oral book reports. She said all of them were excellent, but couldn't Webster Parker make his report a little bit longer? It was all right to be brief, but there was a limit. (Without sarcasm, so help me.)

Despite the students' resentment at being dragged from their fascinating studies, lunch was a quiet, leisurely meal, filled with decorum and graceful, cultural conversation.

Math class was as soothing as a noon siesta, with Miss Bowen gazing dreamily out of the window while stroking a huge, black cat. Every ten or fifteen minutes, she asked a simple Math question, capable of being answered by any eight-year-old. Every one knew all of the answers, except Ward Lasley, who seemed rather dazed by so much mental activity.

After tip-toeing into assembly in perfect single formation and sitting down quietly, we listened to Mr. Gerow and his trombone.

At the end of the twenty-third encore, we returned to History IV where Mr. Ridenhour gave a study period. Now, don't get excited; it lasted only three and a half minutes, because of the encores.

The first year typing class averaged eighty-three words a minute. During the class work, not a word of profanity was spoken. This proved the slogan "learn to type and cuss—no extra charge for the cussing" to be utterly without foundation.

Thus ended an ideal (?) day at B.H.S.

That afternoon, our football team beat Mt. Airy 60 to 0, but that's another story.

MADGELEN COLE.

KEEPING OPEN-MINDED IS OUR BUSINESS!

After silk was frozen we were among the first to complete conversion and offer rayon hosiery to our customers.

We were among the first—if not the first—to show Avconit Processed rayon hosiery in the New York market.

These are examples of our flexibility in meeting new conditions and new problems in the past. We are just as open-minded about the future.

We don't know what's ahead . . . nobody does. But we have a feeling that what is "ultra ultra" today, may not be the preferred hosiery of tomorrow—in short, that the stocking of the future may be something we've never dreamed of.

Should that be so, we're ready. You can be sure that we will again be among the first to make and sell the preferred hosiery of the day. And, as in the past, this new hosiery will be well made . . . fairly priced.

For the Duration we are making rayons exclusively on our 42-45-51 gauge machines. Our aim is to do the best we can to take care of our customer's requirements.

BUILDERS DREAMS

VISIONS created by the imagination precede the achievement of any really great accomplishment. The ability to weave the threads of imagination into the finished fabric is equally important.

It has been the privilege of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY to cooperate with the staff in creating their vision into material form.

Such cooperation is one of the "visions" which precede the building of a successful business, and is a part of the working policy of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY.

To those Staffs desiring complete cooperation, we offer unexcelled service.

You, too, may be proud of your annual.
